

Cilla Watkins

Canadian Barley Tea Company

Owned and operated by sisters Cilla and Janice, The Canadian Barley Tea Company makes mo'mugi barley tea in Salmon Arm, BC, using local organic barley.

The Canadian Barley Tea Company is the first and only barley teabag brand in North America and has been featured in Canadian Living, The Japan Times, The San Francisco Bay Times and various other publications.

The company donates to charity and has a small carbon footprint, with a focus on compostable teabags and non-landfill recyclable packaging. mo'mugi tea is currently sold online and in retail stores across BC and Alberta.

